About the Energy Exports Conference

The Energy Industries Council (EIC), along with the advisory committee, are delighted to bring together the international energy industry through this FREE-to-attend flagship event, returning to P&J Live, Aberdeen on 2–3 September 2026. As the Energy Security Edition, EEC 2026 will explore the critical role of secure, resilient and sustainable energy systems in meeting growing global demand while supporting the energy transition.

Global energy experts will present over two days, highlighting real project opportunities that encompass a wide spectrum of sectors and technologies. Alongside the busy conference agenda, EEC hosts an interactive exhibition, one-to-one procurement meeting programme, and a series of high-level networking opportunities.

Join us at EEC 2026 and discover how your business could benefit as we build international connections, strengthen supply chains, and explore key projects shaping the future of global energy security.

With a growing global emphasis on energy security, cleaner energy sources and sustainability, there's never been a better time for UK companies to export and promote their products, services, solutions and technologies.
