Market Intelligence

Estimated CAPEX in energy projects in the Middle East region across all energy sectors, currently under development, is approximately $1.11 trillion. The major contributor is the upstream sector with $357.11 billion for 180 projects and the downstream sector with $264.3 billion for 124 projects.

Despite being heavily dependent on the oil & gas sector, the Middle East region is keen on the energy transition and clean energy, with $91.24 billion CAPEX invested for 133 projects in the renewable energy sector and $113.67 billion CAPEX invested in the energy transition sector.

Saudi Arabia placed second in the Middle East in terms of CAPEX, with $223.26 billion invested for 172 projects followed by UAE in third place with $198.48 billion invested for 120 projects across the energy sector.
